SpheraCloud Mobile App Update

HSBN 0085
(February 2019)

Introduction

The mobile version of the SpheraCloud application is being improved and a brand new version called “SpheraCloud Mobile” is available for download now for iOS and Android with the windows version available shortly. (“SpheraCloud” is the new name for “Safeguard”). The old version of the app will no longer work after 1st April 2019.

The new version of the app contains some performance improvements and bug fixes which are designed to improve the user experience.

Any unsaved data in the old app on phones will be lost when the old app stops working.

The Android and iOS versions of the new app are available for download now from the app stores. The Windows Mobile version will be available for download by April 1st.

See toolbox talk TBT SpheraCloud (Safeguard) Transfer to New App for full details on how to save any data in the old app on your phone and how to download and login to the new version.

Action required

Make sure all members of your team who use the SpheraCloud app are aware of this change and download the new version of the app by April 1st 2019.

If you have any queries about the new app or saving data from the old version, please contact
