

Delivery affects impact.

Changing perspectives on...
communication and behaviour

Remember these key truths:

- The way you deliver a message can often be more impactful than the words you are saying.
- Take time to think about how messages will be received and how you can alter your delivery to be the most effective.